Dixon-Y Line Fund Gets OK

If Memphis Builds, The $6½ Million Is Blocked

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate approved Tuesday a one billion, 300 million dollar public works appropriation bill which included funds for building transmission lines for the controversial Dixon-Yates power plant.

The measure was passed by voice vote after senators opposing the private utility proposal suddenly dropped their fight to eliminate six and a half million dollars for the transmission lines.

Dixon-Yates opponents said they would accept without objection a proviso barring use of the funds if the city of Memphis, Tenn., makes a "definite commitment" to build its own power plant within 90 days. Such construction would make the Dixon-Yates plant unnecessary.

The Senate's action came as President Eisenhower's staff was studying whether to cancel the power arrangement in view of the Memphis decision to build a plant rather than accept electricity from the Dixon-Yates group.

As passed by the Senate, the bill now goes to a House-Senate conference to iron out differences, contains $5,448,200 more than was voted by the House but is approximately 423 million dollars less than requested by Mr. Eisenhower.

'Can't Be Trusted'

The bill provides funds for hundreds of public works projects across the country, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Atomic Energy Commission and reclamation activities of the Interior Department.

During debate on the measure, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) charged that the Eisenhower administration "can't be trusted" because of its handling of the 100 million dollar Dixon-Yates power contract.

Republicans sat with tight lips as Democrats argued the need for a six and one-half million dollar appropriation to build a transmission line for the proposed West Memphis, Ark., plant.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) urged retention of the Dixon-Yates funds.

Democrats earlier indicated they would fight to knock the funds out of the public works appropriation bill.

GM PLANS STOCK SPLIT OF 3-FOR-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of General Motors Corp. recommended Tuesday a three-for-one stock split to be voted on by stockholders at a special meeting Sept. 23.

Holders of record Aug. 8 will be eligible to vote in the meeting to be held at the GM offices near Wilmington, Del.

Subject to stockholders approval, it is contemplated that the issuance of the shares would commence on or about Oct. 10.

At the same special meeting, the stockholders will be asked to approve the recently-announced revisions in the pension plans for hourly-rate employees and in the GM retirement program for salaried employees.

Wheat Pouring In—Elevator Filling

Trucks line up in the shadow of the huge West Central Co-op Elevator, as wheat from the record harvest in this area moves into the structure. This elevator will be filled in "a few days," the manager reports. (Star Photo.)

Storage Said Ample For State's Golden Harvest

... Lincoln Elevators Filling Rapidly

There is plenty of storage space for wheat in Nebraska, James W. Lemly of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office (ASC) said.

Lemly said, however, a shortage of railroad cars may make it difficult to move the wheat into the available space.

Meantime most Lincoln grain elevators were nearing capacity Tuesday, and one elevator, Equity Union Grain Co., reported that it had no more storage space.

Ray E. TeSelle at Equity said the elevator now had five and one-fourth million bushels, which includes wheat stored by the Community Credit Corporation and reclamations activities of the Interior Department.

During debate on the measure, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) charged that the Eisenhower administration "can't be trusted" because of its handling of the 100 million dollar Dixon-Yates power contract.

Republicans sat with tight lips as Democrats argued the need for a six and one-half million dollar appropriation to build a transmission line for the proposed West Memphis, Ark., plant.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) urged retention of the Dixon-Yates funds.

Democrats earlier indicated they would fight to knock the funds out of the public works appropriation bill.

TeSelle reported the yield in this area was good and of good quality; He said that although the early run was wet, moisture is now about 11.5.

TeSelle added that wheat received at Equity has come from the southeast Nebraska area, and that he didn't know what will be done with the crop from western Nebraska, which comes in two or three weeks later.

Andrew Blomstrom of Hill-Fairchild Elevator said it was nearly filled. He stated all wheat taken in has been from southeast Nebraska, mostly Lancaster County.

Blomstrom also said the quality of the wheat was good, and that farmers were "surprised" at the size of the yield. Small plots have been yielding 40 bushels or more. Wheat has been tested 60 pounds with moisture content .12 or below.

A Gooch Milling and Elevator

Co. official thought Gooch's capacity and Lincoln's capacity will be filled. He said wheat coming in there is from southeast Nebraska and "all over the state." The yield is better than expected, with some yields as high as 45 bushels per acre. The average yield, he said, is about 30-35 bushels.

Weight is about 60 pounds or more, Gooch's reported, and moisture is running .12 or under.

C. P. McWilliams of the new C & G Elevator, which just went into operation this year, said C & G had been receiving grain for four days. The elevator, which has a capacity of six and one-half million bushels had received 100 carloads — 200,000 bushels — by Tuesday afternoon.

McWilliams said he expects the elevator to be filled to capacity by Sept. 1. He said their trucking facility will not be ready for another week, and thus no local wheat has been trucked in.

Wheat moved in by rail has come from Nebraska and northwest Kansas, he said.

The average yield per acre is about 30 to 35 bushels, Lacy reported.

C. P. McWilliams of the new C & G Elevator, which just went into operation this year, said C & G had been receiving grain for four days. The elevator, which has a capacity of six and one-half million bushels had received 100 carloads — 200,000 bushels — by Tuesday afternoon.

Houseboy Nabbed In Strangling

Wealthy Society Matron Slain In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A wealthy young society matron was found beaten, stabbed and strangled to death in her luxurious hillside home Tuesday, and police arrested a former houseboy whose love she assertedly spurned.

The fully-clad body of Mrs. Norma McCauley, 33, recently divorced daughter of millionaire contractor, was found sprawled on a chaise longue in the bedroom of her home in Los Angeles' exclusive Bel-Air district.

She had been stabbed in the chest and arms, beaten savagely about the head and then strangled with her white knitted stole. A few hours after the grisly discovery was made, police arrested John R. Crooker Jr., 34, a former houseboy at the McCauley home, for questioning.

Threatened

A friend, Mrs. Marilyn Low, told police the victim recently confided to her that Crooker threatened to kill her when she refused to marry him.

One of Mrs. McCauley's sons, Kirk, 5, slept peacefully in another room, unaware of the tragedy. Her other boys, Craig, 7, and Kevin, 2, were away from home.

Mrs. McCauley, daughter of contractor J. Arthur Thompson, was divorced only four months ago by Frank E. McCauley, a Los Angeles business executive and World War II ace.

Both McCauley and Mrs. McCauley's escort of the evening before, John Baird, a member of the Los Angeles Municipal Art Commission, were promptly cleared of suspicion.

Officers were summoned to the McCauley home when the maid, Laura Dromstra, found Mrs. McCauley's body. She told police that the victim's son, Kirk, alerted her by coming to her room and announcing:

Mrs. McCauley

Mrs. E. J. Thompson

By AL EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. E. J. Thompson was elected president of the City-County Health Board at the regular meeting of the group Tuesday night.

She succeeds Dr. Horace Munger, retired member. Dr. W. W. Webster was elected vice-president and Kenneth Green, new board member, was elected secretary.

The board also received a report from City-County Health Department Director James T. Googe concerning the merged hospital set-up in Topeka, Kan.

Dr. Googe indicated that the Topeka-Shawnee County health plan "should enable the hospital to give more attractive intern and residency programs" because the clinics are located at a hospital.

Better Service Here

A similar merger plan, if effected in Lincoln, "should enable the development of a better outpatient service for ambulatory patients here," he said.

"Such should tend to re-establish internships and residency programs of a high type in the hospitals here, and more clearly define the functions of the public health programs versus medical care which we carry on for ambulatory patients sent here by the relief agencies," Dr. Googe said in the report.

Miss Thompson said she went to Mrs. McCauley's room and found her dead on the chaise longue, where she apparently had stretched out to rest before undressing and retiring.

The question of "free milk" arose when the Legislature cut down on "red tape" which will reduce the state's cost of administering the program.

The Health Department staff in the Kansas plan, he stated, "consists of the director, 18 nurses (including those assigned to the clinic), 10 sanitarians, ten clerks and secretaries, and some part-time positions, such as a dentist, pediatricians, etc., who operate on a hourly basis."

"The budget for that Health Department for this year is $183,539 as compared with proposed $163,040 budget for Lincoln-Lancaster County, the report stated.

The estimated population of Topeka and Shawnee County is 2,500 less than the Lincoln-County population, which his report put at 130,000.

Polio Vaccine

Upon hearing a report by Dr. Googe that the second injections of the polio vaccine may be received soon, board members asked Dr. C. K. Elliott, the only physician on the board, for comment.

Dr. Elliott said "as far as my young son is concerned I am hesitant to give him a second polio vaccination at the height of the polio period."

He stated the research has found the antibodies in the first shot will remain effective from two to three months.

"The second shot," he said, "lowers the immunity from two to three hours to two to three days in which time the vaccinated person may contact polio."

The board heard a brief report on the sewage disposal situation by the head of the sanitary department of the City-County Health Department, Lester Sanger.

Some plans in the building were changed while construction was going on, the mayor said. These included addition of a grease rack lift, storage tank for gasoline, and a gas pump.

But even these additions, the city still will have spent less than the previous building estimate. The money will go back into the city's general fund.

Completion of the city garage was expected in 10 days.

Younger Crop Of Admirals Sought

Sec. Thomas Gives Older Salts A Jolt

...By New Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Thomas was disclosed Tuesday to have ordered that younger men and specialists be included in the next crop of admirals.

An open letter from Thomas laid down the policy line. The fact that the letter was distributed for all of the Navy to read was itself a break with tradition. It appeared to underline Thomas' determination to extend the search for young blood which vaulted Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke over the heads of 90 of his seniors to be the next chief of naval operations.

An admirals selection board, headed by Adm. Jerrald Wright, started Tuesday to comb the records of some 1,600 captains for the purpose of selecting 31 for promotion to the rank of rear admiral.

31 Places

Normal attrition—officers dying or leaving the service—accounts for the 31 spots to be filled. The figure varies from year to year; last year it was slightly smaller.

His Views Made Plain

Thomas set forth his views on what kind of officers should be promoted in a letter to Wright dated June 29. It did not put the traditional premium on seagoing command experience.

Normally such instructions, called "prescripts" by the Navy, are only for the eyes of the Navy secretary and the selection board. But Thomas' office Tuesday disclosed that the letter had been carried in full in a circular to all the Navy.

Under traditional procedure, the selection board would concentrate its search for new admirals among the comparatively small number of officers who graduated from the Naval Academy in 1927; some interest would be shown in officers who left Annapolis one year later.

Thomas emphasized his point by citing a 1947 law which requires the selection of officers "best fitted for temporary promotion," and spelling out his expectation that the selection board would consider all captains who meet legal requirements. Navy officers said this meant that the board must consider officers through the class of 1934 and that the result could be that comparatively few of the 1927 class will make the grade.

In Early 40s

Thus, the wording of Thomas' precept makes it likely that a substantial proportion of the new admirals would be in their early 40s.

Thomas made another point in telling the selection board that particular attention must be paid to promotion for officers assigned to the Defense Department and to specialists such as experts in atomic power, electronics and guided missiles.

If the Navy requires an officer to stay in a specialized field for the good of the service, Thomas said, the Navy must see to it that such a man's promotion does not suffer as a consequence.

Segni To Be Italy's Premier

He'll Present New Cabinet Today

ROME (AP)—Antonio Segni, a scholarly left-of-center Christian Democrat, agreed Tuesday night to serve as Italy's sixth postwar premier.

He said he would present a new coalition Cabinet to President Giovanni Gronchi Wednesday.

The Cabinet will be made up of Christian Democrats, Social Democrats and Liberals—all pro-Western in foreign policy.

After being sworn in as premier, Segni must next face votes of confidence in both houses of the Italian Parliament.

Ending an hour-long conference with Gronchi, Segni announced:

"Tomorrow at noon I will present to the chief of state the list of members of the new government."

Segni, 64, succeeds Mario Scelba, who was forced to resign June 22. Scelba governed Italy for 16 months with the same parties marking up a coalition government. He was forced out when the Christian Democrats withdrew their full backing.

Loyalty'

Segni caused some surprise when he announced that the Republican party, a minor center group, will not be represented in the Cabinet but "will back it loyally." There had been speculation that Randolfo Pacciardi, a Republican leader, would be named defense minister.

The makeup of Segni's Cabinet is expected to be similar to Scelba's on a party basis. Under Scelba, the Christian Democrats held 14 ministries, the Social Democrats 4 and the Liberals 3.

The exclusion of the Republicans appeared to strengthen the hold of Gaetano Martino on his job as foreign minister. The Republicans had been reported anxious to obtain that post.

Segni's acceptance came after long, hard bargaining. Gronchi called him in June 26 and asked him to try to form a government.

Demo Rayburn Pins Fate Of Housing Bill On GOP

...Martin Sees Early Passage

WASHINGTON (INS) — House speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) pinned the fate of President Eisenhower's housing program Tuesday squarely on Republican Congressional and administration leaders.

At the same time, House GOP leader Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.) predicted the House will pass a housing bill this session. Martin said he plans to get to work on the project Wednesday at the weekly White House legislative conference.

Rayburn told his daily news conference that one of the four GOP members of the rules committee must switch his position on housing if the President's program is to be taken up by the House this session.

By a 6-to-6 vote last Friday, the committee refused to send the measure to the floor for considera-

No Change

Six Democrats supported the bill. Rayburn said Smith and Colmer will not change their positions as long as public housing is part of the measure, and called upon Republican leaders to sway the thinking of one of the four GOP committee members.

Rayburn said: "If the Republican leadership and the Republican administration can get one Republican vote in the Rules Committee, I believe we can get a housing bill. Otherwise, it looks like we can't."

The speaker pointed out that any member who voted against the measure has authority to move that it be reconsidered.

He maintained that it is up to the Republicans to save the bill, and added: "It's their business."

Martin told newsmen: "We'll get a House bill."

Asked whether he can get any of the four Republicans to switch their votes, Martin replied: "We can't if they (the Democrats) are going to insist on a fight for the Senate bill."

The bill already passed by the Senate authorizes an additional 590,000 public housing units, but the House Banking Committee cut this down to 90,000 which is what Mr. Eisenhower requested.

Martin said the Senate bill "goes far beyond what the administration wants."

He indicated the problem probably can be worked out within the rules committee, but added that the measure may have to be returned to the Banking Committee.

The House measure provides that 20,000 of the 90,000 public housing units would be used by the nation's aged.

The four Republican members of the Rules Committee who opposed the Housing plan are Reps. Leo E. Allen, Ill.; Clarence J. Brown, Ohio; Harris Ellsworth, Ore., and Henry J. Latham, N. Y.

Mrs. Beryl Wiedeman of 4720 Newton picked these four big, ripe tomatoes from her garden on July 4th. She thought it was pretty early for that sort of thing. Experts at the University College of Agriculture said it wasn't unusual when the weather is as hot and humid as it has been lately. She and son Mark, 1, don't care too much, though. They're still mighty good tasting tomatoes. (Star Photo.)

Bumper Wheat Crop

The harvest reports from southeast Nebraska are telling a story of a bumper wheat crop—isolated yields as high as 74 bushels to the acre, many yields from 40 to 60.

This is mighty satisfying news to an agricultural area which must think in terms of yields—the result of favorable weather, improved fertility, hard work and good methods. In all of these respects southeast Nebraska is experiencing a big pay-off. There are not going to be many pessimists over the crop reports.

Observers give weather its full measure of credit, but they give substantial weight to improved seed and to field fertilization as well. The latter has been gaining in favor in recent years with the advent of farm equipment which makes application relatively easy and controllable, and to industry-produced fertilizers of a superior character.

But the general wrap up of the picture leaves little comfort for Secretary Benson whose Department of Agriculture has been reducing price supports and applying acreage controls to cope with the nation's mounting surplus. Restrictions are not the easy answer when one is out to control a vigorous, enterprising field. Early predictions that restraints would only stimulate greater productive efforts are proving true. It is only a weak and failing industry that succumbs to the pressure of restraint without survival efforts.

With such yields of wheat as Nebraska is experiencing, there will be enough dollar return to offset the limitations placed on acreage and market supports. The impact of the Benson program will not be felt to the degree normally expected. But its intent should be reviewed.

It is aimed at lower production and higher prices to the producer in a market that is more hungry, neither of which has worked out this year in southeastern Nebraska's bumper fields.

Hot Rods And Harrison Lake

Sometimes the appearance of a city departmental head before the City Council can be a little like facing the firing squad.

Such was the case when Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge came before the Council recently with Buildings and Grounds Superintendent Charles Saal. Before Junge and Saal could get their problem settled, the Council had thrown three others in their laps.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES ESTATE, Calif.—Those in a position to know say that the real reason Nebraska State Highway Engineer L. N. Ress turned down a most attractive financial offer, which would have taken him to a neighboring state, has not had the emphasis it so richly deserves. Mr. Ress decided to remain in the harness in Nebraska chiefly because the biennium which started last Friday will enable him to build more miles of new highway of various classification than circumstances have permitted him to do ever since he became Nebraska's No. 1 road man.

This is another way of saying that while the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature which adjourned in early June did not have a whale of a lot of success making up its own mind about the direction in which it was moving, there will be more money for new roads in Nebraska in the next 24 months than has been available for some years.

It is not the kind of dough over which the people in the state should become excited.

It is, indeed, most modest provision for Nebraska's highway system—just about as nearly meeting minimum requirements as could be provided. But although circumstances are yet to shape themselves when it comes to highway costs within the next two years, there is every reason to believe that the man who plans and constructs Nebraska's roads will have a little more elbow room to do the kind of a job which appeals to the high class engineer Mr. Ress is.

Actually it was this which shaped Mr. Ress's decision. It was not a case of cutting the biggest piece of cake for himself that was possible (that is, salary) but rather the opportunity to get along in terms of reasonable progress with Nebraska's highway system. The facts are not an invitation to Nebraska communities to tumble over themselves in applying pressures for roads. Yet there is every justification for anticipating that new highway construction will be possible in the next few years.

Which is to repeat what everybody knows. Nebraska actually faces no highway headache except to find sources of revenue sufficient to pay the costs of the job which faces the state. It wants and it needs new roads of modern construction. They cost money, and a lot of it.

We got off a train that was an hour late in its arrival at its destination late last week. In a few minutes we were whizzing over one of the most important freeways designed to serve Los Angeles. Speed restrictions, as we recall it, are 60 miles an hour. Where a year ago it had taken a lot of time to travel from the Union Station to the present terminus of this freeway, we were out of the traffic congestion in a few minutes. That freeway—an elevated, eight-lane road that has four lanes each for traffic in opposite directions was under construction when we were here a year ago. It was cutting squarely through an old section of Los Angeles. There were hills to be chopped down to grade—other spots to be filled in. There were blocks of old homes to be demolished or moved, usually demolished. But in the building, the freeway fulfilled a dual role. It got rid of an unsightly residential section, interspersed here and there with ugly over-aged business blocks. It had pushed nine miles out toward the harbor, with 21 miles yet to go, but the 21 unfinished offer no such obstacles as the nine which now are complete and in use. Not a yard of the new freeway had been completed at this time a year ago. There are four others under construction, each one equally impressive, two nearing completion and two more than half built. The five represent an investment in more than 100 miles of eight-lane highway—all in a year's time.

In the condemnation steps to acquire right-of-way and in the actual construction costs, those freeways make any Nebraskan a little bit dizzy. They are a "must" to this community in southern California and as a "must," the problem of where the money is to come from is simple. In this matter of road building we are living in an age which seems to place a premium upon imagination and daring.

Must Have Forgot

The good people of Skowhegan, Maine, must be filled with mixed emotions as the result of President Eisenhower's visit. They found him a very nice man to know, but when he attended a clam bake on invitation of Senator Margaret Chase Smith, he forgot, or didn't properly evaluate the esteem and local significance attached to clams. When his moment came to fill up his plate he selected a good, corn-fed Middle West steak.

Ladejinski Cleared

The Department of Agriculture has at last given a clean bill of health to Wolf Ladejinski, Russian-born land specialist whose appointment to a post in Tokyo last year was rejected on the grounds that he was a security risk.

Secretary Benson announced at week-end that the department's records had been purged of all references to Ladejinski as such.

The nation regrets that any citizen, innocent of such a charge, should have to undergo the pain of being held under suspicion, and rejoices to hear that one has been restored to good name. One may be critical of Secretary Benson acting in the first instance against Ladejinski, but must commend him for his continuing efforts to find the full truth, and in finding it on the side of Ladejinski's good citizenship, for having the courage and honor to vindicate the man publicly. One can have confidence in a government that acts with such conscience.

The Ladejinski case serves principally to illustrate the wrongs that can be done by hasty, emotional and poorly thought-out security programs and it points up the wisdom of recent congressional action calling for a review of the security by a judicious, calm, non-partisan commission.

Poor Example

As Columnist Drew Pearson reports it, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, tried to out-Molotov Molotov in recent dealings with the press. Molotov consented to appear on the air during his visit to the United States but while he did not confine the questions to points he wished to speak about, he insisted that they be given to him in advance. Mrs. Hobby, when pressed to appear on the air in connection with her department's activity—especially that part dealing with the Salk vaccine—not only insisted that the interview be limited to certain questions but that she supply the questions.

When the interviewers refused to play that way and warned that if she would not appear they would interview a prominent critic of her department, she yielded.

Mrs. Hobby is a newspaper woman of long standing and well knows the principles of the free press and the right of the public to question its public servants. And in years past she must have experienced public officials who would have liked to control the news as she thought to do.

Boston Firm Holds

Washington Ties

WASHINGTON — The First Boston Corporation, two of whose men were planted inside the Budget Bureau when the Dixon-Yates project was concocted, is an outfit which might well be given a careful once-over by the Senate anti-monopoly committee. Its operations affect not merely Dixon-Yates but the manner in which certain bankers have put key men in government positions.

The First Boston is not located in Boston, and it is not the staid old New England firm the name indicates. On the contrary it is the "J. P. Morgan" of Wall Street today. J. P. Morgan is now barreled round an important air force contract — merely by coming to Washington and having a conversation with Secretary Humphrey.

The First Boston is to the Eisenhowers administration is illustrated by the manner in which its chairman, George Woods, recently turned round an important air force contract — merely by coming to Washington and having a conversation with Secretary Humphrey.

Meanwhile, the First Boston corporation has become what J. P. Morgan once was — the biggest underwriter of utility companies in the U.S.A. It is also bitterly anti-TVA and bitterly anti-public power.

It has close ties with the White House through Sidney Weinberg, chairman of the giant Wall Street firm of Goldman, Sachs and a member of Ike's golfing cabinet; also through Gen. Robert Cutler of the First National Bank of Boston, parent of the First Boston Corp. Until recently, Cutler was a member of the White House staff.

It also has very close ties with the Treasury through Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. One of its directors, Arthur A. Van Bushkirk, is a director of Secretary Humphrey's Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., biggest coal company in the world. Incidentally, Humphrey has never testified that he sold his stock in this and his other far-flung companies.

IT PAYS TO HAVE FRIENDS

George D. Woods, chairman of First Boston, is also close to Harold Stassen and Eugene Black, head of the World Bank. Black sent him on a tour of India to make a report on its investment possibilities, while Adolph Wenzel, the man who was planted inside the Budget Bureau to help concoct the Dixon-Yates deal, has now gone to work for the World Bank.

Demo Demands U.S. Push Atom-Plane Development

...Russian Progress Cited

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) demanded Tuesday that the United States push with full force and imagination the development of atomic-powered planes because of the rapid progress of Russian airpower.

The chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Committee urged also greater speed on the B-52 intercontinental jet bomber. He said the program should have "whatever cash effort it needs."

Anderson made his demands in the wake of disclosures that the Soviet Union has flown a surprising four-engine jet transport plane that appears suitable for both military and civilian use.

The big jet airliner was featured in the annual Soviet air parade Sunday which also included a turboprop intercontinental bomber, a supersonic jet fighter, a twin-engine all-weather jet fighter and a twin-rotor troop-carrying helicopter.

AMAZING NEW "RED" VITAMIN Builds Pep, Energy, Vitality Fast!

Do you feel worn-out all the time? Do you get up in the morning more tired than when you went to bed? Does your job or housework seem to drain you? Then you may be the victim of thin, watery, anemic-type blood.

Now an amazing new scientific discovery helps build rich red blood and helps restore your old energy and vitality. It's called Red Vitamin B-12. It has been hailed in magazines from coast-to-coast as the sensational

HEALTH FOOD SERVICE

The new Red aircraft went on parade as members of Congress still were recovering from the shock with which this country learned that the Soviets have flown — in formation — intercontinental jet bombers of the B-52 type.

Deliveries of the U. S. intercontinental B-52 are being made this summer to Air Force operational units and a 35 per cent increase in their production has been ordered.

Anderson said that "if the Soviets aren't ahead of us, they are making up ground rapidly and that is why we need a great effort on atomic aircraft which has been moving very slowly."

He said he fears that U. S. atomic planes "are still in the talk stage" and won't move ahead until "we put a man in charge with authority."

Anderson noted that Brig. Gen. Donald J. Keirn has been in charge of the nuclear plane program for about three years. But he said he did not think Keirn has been given the authority he should have.

However, Anderson proposed that Keirn should follow the example of Adm. Hyman Rickover, who developed the atomic submarine, the now-famous Nautilus.

The congressional atomic leader explained: "Rickover didn't have the authority either. But he took it. Congress backed him up."

"We can't wait until every detail is perfect before we build a nuclear-powered plane. Rickover put a good many things into the Nautilus and he didn't know if they would work when he did this. But they did work."

"It Rickover had followed the advice of the Navy's top brass, he still would be tinkering with toys."

Asked how long it would take to put an atomic plane into the skies if its development had the required imagination and push, Anderson replied: "I think it is a classified answer. But that answer is one of the things that makes us (on the atomic committee) urge top speed."

Approval "for the record" was given by the City Council Tuesday on contracts let by the state for construction of the southeast radial highway construction in the city.

The contract calls for building of the central portion of the radial, between 21st and K to 27th and D, by Abel Construction Co. of Lincoln. Cost of construction is estimated at $777,905.26.

The approval by the Council was asked by the Department of Roads and Irrigation. Half the cost of the

Surprisingly Good Wheat Yields Cheer Farm Front

'Remarkable Progress' Noted In Corn Crop Throughout State

Better than expected wheat yields combined with the corn crop's "remarkable progress" made the weekly crop-weather report Tuesday an exceptionally rosy note.

About 10 per cent of the state's wheat had been harvested up to the holiday week-end and some exceptionally good yields, "probably the highest of record," have been made in extreme southeastern Nebraska, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

The weekly crop report didn't mention specific yields, but some 70 bushel wheat has been reported in the southeast area, and a six acre tract near Pickerington is said to have made 74 bushels to the acre.

Chet Swinbank, extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, said he has seen 50 bushel wheat and heard of 60 bushel wheat, but that 70 bushel wheat was the best he had known.

Very Promising'

Winter wheat in Nebraska last year averaged 20 bushels per harvested acre, although considerable acreage was abandoned.

According to the weekly report of Statistician A. E. Anderson, wheat is "very promising" in the Panhandle and most of Southwestern Nebraska.

Yields in the central portion, however, vary greatly, ranging from low to far above average. Spotted conditions find some of the wheat ripe and shattering, other spots in the same field green with the heads just filling.

The 10 per cent of wheat harvested so far compares with 25 per cent on the same date a year ago. Rainy weather caused this year's delay.

East central Nebraska was about 22 per cent finished with the har-

Many Areas Expecting Rain

Scattered thundershowers are forecast for Wednesday for sections of the middle Atlantic states and the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. Isolated thunderstorms are expected in the Gulf coast states, the lower and central Mississippi valley and the northern tier of states from the Lakes region to the Dakotas. Showers and a few thunderstorms are likely along the eastern slopes of the Rockies. It will be cooler in northern New England and warmer in the northern Rockies. Little temperature change is expected elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

State's Six-Month Traffic Death Count Same As 1954

By the Associated Press

The rise in traffic deaths has been almost stalled in Nebraska and its six border states.

An Associated Press survey showed that for the six-month period ending June 30, there were 1,400 traffic deaths in the seven states—only 10 more than for the same period in 1954.

And for the 12 months ended June 30 there were 3,182 deaths 113 fewer than in the preceding 12 months.

Nebraska held the line exactly for the six month period — 136.

Woman Breaks Leg

In Hayng Accident

HAY SPRINGS, Neb. — Mrs. Cletus Riley is hospitalized with a broken right leg received when the horses she was driving on a hay rake became frightened and began running.

Mrs. Riley jumped from the rake, causing the injury.

Deaths in each year. And for the year Nebraska's toll was down 38 to 328.

But the months of heavy vacation travel are just beginning and the trend could easily turn upward again.

Statistically here's how the seven states rank for the first six months of 1955 compared with the first six months of 1954:

Missouri 414 deaths in 1955 compared to 428 in 1954; South Dakota 87 and 69; Kansas 263 and 258; Colorado 170 and 166; Wyoming 61 and 66; Nebraska 136 and 136; Iowa 269 and 267.

Grant, 19, pleaded guilty to charges of rape and impersonation of an officer and was bound over to District Court. His bond was set at $5,000.

Hogan, 51, charged with rape and sodomy, requested continuance of the preliminary hearing. The request was granted and further hearings set for 10 a.m. July 13. His bond was also set at $5,000.

Return From Abroad

Returning home to Lincoln last week end in time to be with members of their families for the Fourth of July holiday were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Laase who spent the last year at Oslo, Norway.

Mr. Laase, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Leroy T. Laase, attended the University of Oslo on a Fulbright Scholarship, studying international relations. Mrs. Laase, the former Lois Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Anderson of Lincoln, was a member of the faculty of the American School in Oslo last year.

FIRST of all, we understand that Mrs. William Heilig will be joining Mrs. E. R. Heiny and Mrs. Jasper Clarke for a vacation trip to Minnesota in mid-July. The trio of vacationers will drive to Alexandria for a stay of several weeks.

ADDED to our list of vacationers are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods who are currently at Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies. They will be returning home in several weeks.

MENTION of the Woods family reminds us that yesterday, Mrs. Mark Woods and Mrs. Lee Metcalf of Kansas City, Mo., left for the Woods' summer home at Madeline Island for the summer. They will join Mark W. Woods who left recently to open the family's summer home.

AND still more news about the Woods family tells us that Com. and Mrs. Mark W. Woods and their three children, Jorie, Shanna, and Rondi of Virginia Beach, Va., will be arriving in Lincoln this evening. They will be the houseguests of Com. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Pace Woods until this coming Monday.

Also announcing plans for an approaching wedding is Miss Sandra Beal who has chosen Sunday, Aug. 7, as the date for her marriage to Harold Mortensen of Valparaiso. The afternoon ceremony will take place at the Crouse Methodist Church.

Miss Beal is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beal of Malcolm.

LT. AND MRS. WILLIAM FRANK NORRIS

Lighted white candles and tall arrangements of white gladioli and carnations placed against a screen of greenery appointed the chancel of the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church at Columbus, Miss., for the marriage of Miss Frances Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters of Columbus, and Lt. William Frank Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Norris of Lincoln, on Saturday, June 18. The 8 o'clock evening ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. C. C. Barr, and Miss Georgann Brownlee of Birmingham, Ala., organist, played the wedding music. Miss Brownlee also accompanied Mrs. James L. Phillips and Billy Reeves, vocal soloists.

Frocked identically in cameo pink tulle over taffeta were Miss Kay Walters, who was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Norris of Lincoln, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Donna Giger and Miss Mary Alice Fondren of Columbus, Miss.; and Miss Mary Virginia Younger of Louisville, Miss.

Brief, sleeveless jackets of pale pink lace accented their snug basques and full skirts, and head bandeaux of ruffled pink tulle completed their ensembles. They carried shower bouquets of white carnations and valley-lilies.

Serving his son as best man was Ben E. Norris of Lincoln, and the corps of ushers included Lt. Peyton Adams, Lt. Gene Crawford and Lt. William Sumner, all of Greenville Air Force Base, and James L. Phillips of Columbus. Lt. Adams and Mr. Phillips also lighted the candles.

White silk tulle and imported lace over satin fashioned the bride's period gown. A narrow frill of the tulle edged the decolletage of the molded bodice of lace, and the sleeves were long and fitted. The lace extended below the narrow waist to form deep peplum over the tiered skirt of tulle, and her French illusion veil was held to the head by a coronet of lace and pearls.

She carried a white prayer book marked by a single white orchid and showered with lilies-of-the-valley.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church. Following a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, Lt. and Mrs. Norris will reside at Greenville, Miss., where the bridegroom is serving with the Air Force. The bride chose to travel a navy blue linen frock with navy accessories.

Mrs. Norris is a graduate of Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus, and Lt. Norris is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Brides Have Church Ceremonies

MRS. HAROLD JOSEPH WRAY

MRS. WYNNE MERRITT BABBITT

Miss Carolyn Anne Ruzicka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruzicka of Chehalis, Wash., became the bride of Harold Joseph Wray of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wray of Spalding, at a 10 o'clock morning ceremony solemnized on Saturday, June 11. Summer blossoms in pastel tones decorated the altar of St. Patrick's Church at Gretna for the service which was read by the Rev. Father Zaplotnik, and Mrs. Margaret Patterson, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Patterson also accompanied Mrs. Tom Wagner, vocalist, preceding the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Miss Ruth Ruzicka of Chehalis, Wash., and Miss Mary Wray of Spalding was the bridesmaid. The honor attendant, in orchid, and Miss Wray in aqua, wore alike frocks of lace and net accented by brief jackets of lace. They completed their ensembles with wide-brimmed lace hats, and carried arrangements of Esther Reed daisies.

Serving Mr. Wray as best man was Norman Kavolec of Spalding, and the ushers were Edward Wray, Omaha, Richard Wray of Spalding and Tom Fox of Lincoln.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and tulle. Shallow scallops of the lace edged the wide V neckline of the basque, and the lace sleeves were long and fitted. Beneath a tucked midriff of satin, the tulle skirt was caught into fullness. A cap of pearls and iridescent sequins held her illusion veil, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with an orchid.

At an early evening ceremony which took place Sunday, June 26, at the Blue Springs Presbyterian Church, Miss Nelva Rae Gillham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Gillham of Blue Springs, became the bride of Wynne Merritt Babbitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Babbitt of Plattsburgh. The double ring service was solemnized by the Rev. H. Warren Kunkel and Mrs. Clark Newman, pianist, played the wedding music.

Frocked identically in petal pink silk shantung were Mrs. William J. Foster of Blue Springs, who was her sister's matron of honor; Mrs. Gaynor L. Cass, Beatrice, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Patricia Settell of Humboldt, the bridesmaids; and the junior bridesmaids, Miss Vicki Lynn Cass and Miss Beth Ann Cass of Beatrice, nieces of the bride. Beneath their molded torso bodices, the short skirts flared into fullness, and they wore pearl-trimmed caps of the silk completed by small, chignon bows. Pink carnations fashioned their bouquets. Miss Susan Cass was the flower girl, and the ring-bearer was Jay Babbitt of Pacific Junction, Ia.

Naasson Babbitt of Pacific Junction served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Hubert Babbitt of Ft. Collins, Colo., also a brother of the bride.

Railroad Assessments To Jump $5 Million

By SALLY ADAMS

Star Staff Writer

Railroad assessments in Nebraska will be about $5,000,000 more than in 1954 although the same formula for arriving at assessments was used.

An assessment figure of $147,000,000 was set by the State Board of Equalization at its meeting Tuesday.

The Union Pacific's assessment will be up about five and one-half per cent over 1954's figure and Burlington will be up about two per cent.

In other action the board established truck assessments.

The formula for new trucks is to rule against Braniff in the case in which it contended that it should not have to pay personal property taxes in Nebraska on the grounds that it has no property in the state except when planes land at Lincoln and Omaha.

The depreciation allowance for the second year will be 35 per cent and 30 per cent for each subsequent year.

Factors in the formula used to determine assessments are the historical costs of the property, capitalized net earnings averaged over the past five years and the five-year sale price of the company's stocks and bonds.

The only road to show a decrease in assessments will be the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha which is down about 11 per cent.

The new assessment figure will average about a three and one-half per cent increase in funds for the state.

This in addition to about $18,000 which the state claims Braniff owes from a test a year ago.

These total $5,086 for 1953 and $6,277 for 1954, plus interest.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has denied a request for permission to file suit to enjoin the state from collecting the tax.

This Slick Chick Pulls Tattoo Trick

There's a new switch to the old favored declaration of affection wherein a young man will visit a tattoo artist and emerge proudly with the name of his one-and-only emblazoned across his manly chest.

A sweet young out-stater clad in a two-piece sun suit was observed on Lincoln streets recently and on that expanse between halter and shorts, in three-inch letters appeared: "Chuck."

The ordinances, all on third reading, included:

Creating Paving Dist. 1396—Orchard between 66th and 67th.

Creating Paving Dist. 1397—High between 33rd and 35th.

Creating Dist. 414—22nd from Potter to Fair.

Creating Water Dist. 415—Lowan from 70th to 72nd.

Vacating 69th St. from Seward to the alley between Seward and Colfax.

It was rather apropos that the name of the current "flame" had been imprinted on the young lady's um-m-m mid-section by use of the sun's rays. Tape or paper had been used to outline the letters, and subsequent exposure to the ultra-violets and infra-reds had heightened the glow on all surrounding area.

There's one slight difference between the tanned tummy and the old-time tattoo, however. The sunburn—and the name—will fade in time like last year's love. The tattoo was a thing of permanence, and woe unto him who became enamored of a girl named "Sally" and had the job of explaining who "Maxine" might be.

The city's Board of Equalization closed down Tuesday without having heard a complaint, the second time it's happened in two consecutive years.

Adoption of equalized tax returns turned in by William Schlaebitz, tax commissioner, was made. The returns will be the basis of the levy for this year's tax.

Schlaebitz says he anticipates a real estate property evaluation increase of up to $5 million this year because of increased city growth. He said railroads and utilities should show increased valuations during the coming year.

The overall evaluation for the city last year was $137,814,695, of which $112,416,625 was real estate. Personal property was returned at $17,504,280.

Bomb Injures Two

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—A bomb exploded in the garden of the Zionists Organization of America grounds during a Yiddish performance of "The Witch" starring American Jewish artist Dina Halperin. Two persons in the audience were injured slightly.

There's one slight difference between the tanned tummy and the old-time tattoo, however. The sunburn—and the name—will fade in time like last year's love.

The tattoo was a thing of permanence, and woe unto him who became enamored of a girl named "Sally" and had the job of explaining who "Maxine" might be.

General Dead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Brig. Gen. Clinton D. Casey Vincent, deputy chief of staff for operations on the Continental Air Defense Command, was found dead in bed in his quarters Tuesday.

Officials of the command said the cause of death has not been determined.

He is survived by the widow, Margaret, and four children.

Whatever happened to inflation? When Mr. Truman was playing piano at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, you heard a good deal about inflation. Now nothing.

think the price of bacon has gone down?
Not so you could notice
Do you
it. Well, it was a losing battle and I think
Mr. El's enhancer did just as well to drop it.
Science tells me even the universe is expanding.

This is cute but don't tell me there is no inflation with people going around in clothing they must take into a filling station to get aired up. Anyone suffering a puncture would surely hiss like a leaking radiator. Personally I could not stand the humiliation.

***

Liquor has gone up as of July 1. Government gave a mighty clever excuse. They said it was not inflation, just taxes. Beer has gone up. Haircuts are reaching for the $1.75 mark.

A whole generation has grown up without learning how to beat an automobile home with "Shave and a haircut—two bits."

EGG, beans, bacon, butter, beer and bras. All inflated.

Literary bankruptcy at the Western Union counter trying to find the five words after love.

The price of horse meat for my domestic animals is so high I am wondering if they canned Man o' War.

***

I do not hear one whisper of this from the White House. Possibly have been overlooked since Mr. Truman went back to Independence. But I call it to their attention.

Nothing is going down, boys, but my spirits. My spirits are expendable so don't worry. I just want to tell you which way the wind blows.

And speaking of the way the wind blows, what about this matter of blowing up inflatable foundation garments? This is very personal inflation and in fact, seems to leave us with no foundation whatever.

Science discovers the universe is inflating. Going on from there,

Tax Returns Won't Become Public Knowledge, Vic Assures Nebraskans

Gov. Victor Anderson Tuesday assured Nebraska taxpayers that they need have no fear that contents of their federal income tax returns will become public knowledge as the result of information requested by county assessors.

The governor explained that about "twenty or thirty" assessors had requested information regarding inventories shown by certain taxpayers on their federal tax returns.

Assessors are permitted by law to request this information.

Anderson said his office had received some complaints that county assessors were getting income tax returns and making them public.

Anderson said the state tax commissioner has designated C. Sherman Johnson, a former Internal Revenue Department employee, to go to the Bureau and obtain the inventory figures requested by the county assessors.

Nothing is going down, boys, but my spirits. My spirits are expendable so don't worry. I just want to tell you which way the wind blows.

And speaking of the way the wind blows, what about this matter of blowing up inflatable foundation garments? This is very personal inflation and in fact, seems to leave us with no foundation whatever.

PERON OFFERS TO BURY AX WITH POLITICAL FOES

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Juan D. Peron broadcast a message to the nation Tuesday designed to silence rumors his hold on the Argentine government was seriously weakened by the brief revolt against him June 16.

He said the enemies who then failed to assassinate him now have become rumor mongers attempting "sedition by telephone."

The keynotes of the president's address was a dramatic offer to declare a truce with his political adversaries.

Peron asserted the revolt was attempted by a few navy units with the aid of small groups of civilians.

He absolved the major opposition political parties of any participation.

"I consider that the political parties are now more strongly partisan to legality than to violence and that every day there are fewer political leaders who long for disturbance rather than peace," he said.

He emphasized that no one on the Board of Equalization, of which he is chairman, ever sees the returns or the figures obtained by Anderson.

Anderson said his office had received some complaints that county assessors were getting income tax returns and making them public.

Broadway Books, Not Library Kind, Are Quoting Marciano At 13 To 5

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS)—Broadway books . . . which have nothing to do with a library . . . already are quoting 13 to 5 on Rocky Marciano to beat Archie Moore in their heavyweight title brawl in Yankee Stadium Sept. 20 . . .

Conrad Leads American Entries In British Open

By STERLING SLAPPEY

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland (P)—Joe Conrad, the spunkly little Texan who won the British Amateur golf title a month ago, led five American qualifiers Tuesday in the 85th British Open championship.

Conrad, with rounds of 67-72-139 over the Old and New Courses of St. Andrews, finished the 36-hole qualifying test four strokes behind the medalist, Frank Jowle of England, and tied with seven star professionals for fourth place.

Ten Americans failed to qualify.

Survivors Few

Only Conrad of San Antonio; veteran Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex.; Amateur Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia; Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh and Ed Furgol, the lame-armed Clayton, Mo., professional who won the 1954 American Open, survived the qualifying play.

Ninety-four players with aggregates of 148 and better qualified for the championship proper, which starts today over the 6,936 yard, par 36-36-72 Old Course. The 72-hole tournament ends Friday.

Jowle, a 43-year-old Yorkshireman who never has won a major tournament, followed up his record-breaking 63 Monday on the easier inland New Course with a par 72 on the Old Course. That 135 total was the third-best qualifying shooting in the history of the British Open.

Conrad Top Amateur

Bobby Jones qualified in 1926 at Sunningdale with 134 and three years ago Scotland's John Panton shot a 134 before the Open at Royal Lytham and St. Annes.

The 94 qualifiers start today with a clean slate.

Runner-up to Jowle in the qualifying rounds was Larrie Atyon, a big Scot who now resides in Ipswich, England. He had 67-69-136. Then came England's Harry Weetman with 67-71-138.

Conrad was the top amateur among the qualifiers as well as the leader of the Americans. He shot a par 72 over the Old Course Tuesday morning while the weather was calm.

With the sandy-haired Texan in the 139 bracket were Peter Thomson, the defending champion from Australia; Charlie Ward of England, John Fallon of Scotland, Flory Van Donck of Belgium and Bertrand Bradshaw of Ireland, Carlos Potente of Spain and Ted Lester of England.

Ward, who started in second place after an opening 65 on the New Course, went up to 74 Tuesday and Thomson, who shot a 69 on the Old Course, took a 70 on the New.

Furgol shot 71-71-142, recovering after hitting into one of the Old Course's best-known hazards, Silwan Burn, on the first hole. McHale, a former U. S. Walker Cup player, qualified with 70-73-143; Nelson shot 69-76-145 and Bulla, second in the 1939 British Open, had 77-70-147.

The program for the remainder of the week calls for 18 hole rounds on the Old Course today and Thursday. Then the field will be reduced to the 50 low scorers. They will play the final two rounds Friday.

Floyd Patterson Faces 1st Heavyweight

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (P)—For the first time in his career, Floyd Patterson meets a real man-sized heavyweight tonight when he boxes Archie McBride, an 18-year-old from Trenton, N.J.

The 10-round match at Madison Square Garden will be carried on network television and radio (ABC) at 8 p.m. CST.

Patterson has fought heavyweights before, men around 176 or 177 pounds, but now his manager, Gus D'Amato, is ready to start moving in the big league. Patterson is a 3 to 1 favorite.

Big Boys Now

"From now on, it's the big boys for Floyd," said D'Amato. "He's ready. Not Archie Moore, Ezzard Charles, Nino Valdes and men like that just now. Just big boys. By June, 1957, he's going to be ready to beat Rocky Marciano in one of boxing's all-time great fight's."

The former Olympic champ is now 20 with a near perfect record of 22-1 for 23 pro starts. The only man to beat him was Joey Maxim, June 7, 1954, in eight rounds at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway when most of the boxing writers thought Patterson won.

Patterson had to pull out of a match with McBride at Chicago in May because of ptomaine poisoning. He was busy earlier in the year, stopping Willie Troy, Don Grant and Esau Ferdinand. His only bout since March was a five-round technical knockout over Yvon Durelle at Newcastle, New Brunswick, June 23 when he weighed 170 pounds.

In the latest ring ratings, Patterson was the No. 2 contender to Archie Moore in the light heavyweight division. Although D'Amato hopes to build up his weight, Floyd actually has picked up only about five pounds in three years. For his pro bout, Sept. 12, 1952, he weighed 164½.

Nine Straight Streak

Until he lost to Maxim, Patterson had won 13 in a row. Since the Maxim defeat, he has swept nine straight, stopping his last four opponents.

McBride is a methodical worker. At 26 he has been in 29 fights winning 20 and losing 9. He flattened eight foes and was stopped twice. Patterson has 14 knockouts and never was stopped.

A high spot in McBride's career is a decision over Nino Valdes in 1948 although Valdes evened the score last year. Hurricane Tommy Jackson whipped McBride in 10 rounds April 4 but McBride defeated Bob Satterfield, subbing for Patterson, at Chicago May 11.

The match is the first of four Wednesday fights to be staged in the Garden during July and August when there are no Friday shows. As usual, two judges and a referee will score by rounds with supplementary point system.

Hot KC Clips Cleveland, 4-3

KANSAS CITY (P)—Kansas City's

new-found home run twins, Hector Lopez and Joe DeMaestri, hit homers Tuesday night as the Athletics defeated Cleveland 4-3 for their 10th victory in 12 games.

The high-flying Athletics broke starter Early Wynn's string of 29 scoreless innings in the first when DeMaestri hit his Homer over the left field fence to start the game.

Lopez saved his roundtripper for the eighth, after the Indians had tied the score at 3-3. He won the second game of Monday's doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox also.

The Indians had chased starter Bobby Shantz in their half of the eighth when Jim Hegan hit a home run with none on. Al Smith singled and Bobby Avila walked after two were out to bring on Tom Gorman, the ace relief artist of the A's.

He made Al Rosen foul out on the first pitch and got the Indians in order in the ninth.

It was Gorman's fourth victory but he has saved more than twice that number by appearing almost daily to help a faltering Athletics' pitcher in the late innings.

Will imported Swiss peace at Geneva spread better than the San Francisco do-it-yourself brand?

We went to St. Petersburg on our own in 1824 to fix boundaries, navigation lanes and fishing territory. We got Alaska right in Washington in 1867.

We got around to Bavaria, Hesse-Cassel, Saxony and Switzerland in 1845 knocking off the Drot d'Aubaine. Up until then those countries confiscated the estates of all American tourists dying within their boundaries. That's Drot d'Aubaine.

It was with France for the alliance against Great Britain. The English didn't care much for them to went to Versailles for a post-graduate course in 1783. That was the big one. Independence for the colonies.

We were at Algiers in 1795, 1815 and 1816 for long distance neighborly relations with the Mediterranean pirates. The last one took.

Might shake up your danduff to know we signed a peace treaty

U.N. Bars Newsmen From Red Briefing

Refusal Comes After Commies Blasted For Truce Violation

PANMUNJOM (Wednesday) (AP)—The U.N. Command barred Allied newsmen, over their protests, from accepting a rare Communist invitation to a news conference in the 1,000-yard circular joint security area near here.

The refusal came after the command told the Reds in some of the strongest language it ever used at a Military Armistice Commission meeting that their recent "sweet talk" and "peaceful propaganda" was in marked contrast to "your continued willful and flagrant violation of the Korean truce agreement."

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied delegate to the commission read a 17-page document of alleged Communist truce zone violations and told North Korean Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, the top Communist delegate:

"It stands as monumental evidence to the U.N. Command and the free world of your complete insincerity, dishonesty and utter lack of integrity."

Grave Situation

"The combat forces and particularly the air forces that have built up illegally and covertly since the signing of the armistice constitute a grave situation which threatens seriously the very structure and stability of the armistice itself."

Lee offered to hold a press briefing for Allied newsmen after the commission meeting. At first one string was attached—Communist newsmen were to attend Parks' news conference. Later the Reds withdrew that provision.

Parks discussed the offer with the 15 U.N. correspondents for almost an hour. He said he opposed it and could not permit it.

After two telephone calls to U.N.,

County Okays Gravel Near New Drive-In

The Lancaster County Board has approved the graveling of a half-mile stretch of county road on the east edge of the new 84th and O Drive-In Theater.

The theater will pay half the cost of graveling 84th between Vine and O in line with a county engineer's policy.

Chauncey E. Barney, attorney for the theater, said traffic on the road would justify the improvement and provide an auxiliary exit for the theater for better distribution of north-bound traffic.

A no parking zone on the county road adjacent to the theater was authorized by the board.

County Engineer Louis Weaver said a new housing addition as well as the theater, had increased traffic on the road, which had not been gravelized before because there had been no one living on the half-mile stretch, which is not a mail route. The portion of the road between Vine and Highway 6 is gravelized.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm, who has an interest in the theater, did not vote on the authorization.

Hester Quit Rather Than Be Demoted

Clarence D. Hester resigned from the prison industries staff after Warden Joseph Bovey proposed demoting him from superintendent to assistant superintendent, the warden's report to the Board of Control disclosed Tuesday.

L. M. Larsen, who had been superintendent several years ago but more recently had been the assistant under Hester, became superintendent again on July 1.

Bovey announced Hester's resignation and Larsen's appointment to succeed him at that time.

The warden's report to the Board consisted of a copy of a memorandum addressed to Larsen and Hester, and a note addressed to the board. Both were dated July 1.

The memorandum to Larsen and Hester read:

"The following personnel changes become effective July 1, 1955.

"L. M. Larsen becomes superintendent of prison industries.

"Clarence D. Hester becomes assistant superintendent of prison industries."

He Declined, Resigned

The warden's letter to the Board said simply "Mr. Hester declined the position offered and resigned."

Bovey told reporters he sought to make the switch in positions "to improve efficiency in the organization."

But Hester "didn't want the job (of assistant superintendent) offered him, and resigned," the warden continued.

Resigned Orally

He said Hester presented his resignation orally and did not elaborate on his reasons for quitting.

Hester told reporters the day after he resigned only that he did so for "personal reasons."

He said he had been offered employment in Lincoln but may wait a few weeks before reaching a decision. He said he might "take a trip to the coast."

Philippine Coffee?

MANILA — The Philippines may get into the coffee business. C. DeWitt Dyckman, New York consultant, says the small industry can be expanded readily to move into the world market and earn dollars. Dyckman reports that the Philippines has the right soil and climate in northern Luzon and on the southern island of Mindanao.
